

The following slides are meant to give the viewer the status of the continuing development of the design for the Port of San Francisco's Pier 70 Crane Cove Park project.

The following images first present an aerial view of the overall project, followed by a site plan, then several perspective sketches, which illustrate the schematic design. The imagery is organized by views from the northern portion of the park and then progressing in a southerly direction ending in Crane Plaza as noted on the view key. The last image illustrates the phasing for project construction, with Phase I anticipated to be completed in late 2017 and if funding allows the alternate areas at the same time and future phases expected five to ten years later.

note: some illustrations are older and show the retention of building 30, retention of building 30 is no longer a part of the project.
